

Advanced Technology Consulting (ATC)

For The Business Minded

ATC's innovative practice and suite of services help leading organizations—from the enterprise to the SMB—create business value from IT, cloud and telecom.

As an independent telecom agency and consulting firm, ATC removes the business complexities of researching, comparing, procuring, implementing and managing telecommunications and cloud systems. ATC's team of Certified Telecom Professionals (CTP) leverages an extensive network of technology carriers, while providing telecom and cloud-specific technical expertise.

Over the last five years there has been a transformational convergence of IT and telecom. ATC has been at the forefront of this convergence, assisting clients with VoIP, cloud migration, voice and data networks, unified communications, bandwidth, business continuity and back up.

"69.7% of mid-sized organizations use the Cloud or have plans to implement within the next 12 months."

IDC 2013 MarketScape Assessment*

"As a partner, ATC provides real, practical solutions to telecom problems facing companies."

VoIP

Business VoIP helps you serve your customers better with mobile, flexible solutions that help you do business anywhere, anytime. Hosted VoIP provides cloud-driven benefits and a full range of feature sets.

CLOUD

Cloud technologies are providing significant benefits to companies of all sizes, including cost efficiency and scalability. The Cloud model aligns quite well with today's on demand, pay-as-you-go market.

BANDWIDTH

The rise in cloud computing, bandwidth-intensive applications, and heavy media requires bigger pipes—larger, dedicated circuits (usually fiber) providing more bandwidth and hence, more reliable connectivity.

CONSULTING

As technology evolves, converges, becomes more complex and convoluted, businesses continually require solutions expertise. This expertise helps you identify the right partners and solutions for sustained growth.
